Accident Victim Dies In New Orleans Hospital

13-Year Old Boy Injured When Hit By Automobile Monday; Driver Is Charged With Reckless Driving

Thirteen year old Herman Bounds was riding his bicycle at dusk on Monday afternoon on the L&N tracks at Bonker Street, going toward Newave Avenue on the left side of the road when he was run over by an automobile.

According to the boy's stepfather, Mr. Stanley Roberts, the car, a 1948 Ford, driven by a colored man, named Clarence Benoit was going in the same direction as the boy on the bike and made a fast wide turn round the stopped L&N train, the Piedmont, which was sidetracked awaiting a north-bound incoming train. In making the turn, the driver of the car swerved to the left of the road and ran over the bike and the boy. The boy said he was under the car and pulled him self and the bike out, then walked to the home of his mother, Mrs. Edna Tomassich Osbourne, who was living at 307 Union Street. The bike was said to be badly damaged.

Herman is the son of Mrs. Agnes Bounds Roberts and is a fifth grade student at Bay High School. He was taken to King's Daughters Hospital for emergency treatment. He suffered cuts on his hip, right shoulder, elbow, and severe abrasions and lacerations on both ankles. He was resting at home on Tuesday, with his ankles heavily bandaged.

Benoit was arrested at 7:30 p.m. by Constable G. V. Price and charged with reckless driving and causing injury.

95 POLIO CASES LISTED DURING AUGUST

Polio cases for August top 1949 record. Ninety-three cases were reported during August 1950, as compared with 80 for August, 1949, according to records from the State Board of Health. This brings the State total for 1950 to 21 cases, only two cases less than the 1949 record for the same period. Dr. A. L. Gray, Director, Division of Preventive Health, said a drop in incidence is expected in September.

Dr. Felix J. Underwood, State Health Officer and State Chairman of the March of Dimes Organization, reported 108 Mississippi patients now hospitalized. Dr. Underwood said, "It is most regrettable that so many of our children and adults have been stricken with polio this year but it is gratifying to know that every one of these are receiving the best possible care."

Esther Helm, State Representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said, "Mississippi County Chapters of the Polio Foundation are now underwriting cost of patient care at the rate of $1,000 a day. Thirty-three chapters have exhausted local March of Dimes funds and have received a total of $84,467.67 from the National Foundation's Epidemic Aid Fund. Counties receiving funds last week were: Attala, $1,000; Benton, $2,000; Clay, $2,000; and Jefferson, $1,750."

LEAVES SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 9 FOR JUNIORATE OF BROTHERS OF SACRED HEART AT DAPHNE, ALABAMA

Young Ronald Garcia will leave on Saturday, September 9, for the House of Studies of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart at Daphne, Alabama. Ronald, who is 13, is the son of the late Albert Garcia, a native of Portland, Miss., and his mother is the former Ethel Nowack of Kilm. He attended St. Stanislaus College and after school hours and during the vacation days worked at the Hancock County Eagle as office boy and printer's devil. He has one brother, Lavonne and two sisters, Joyce and Sister Jeanne. There is of the Order of St. Joseph.

The school at Daphne is open this year for the first time for boys from the South who have not yet finished their high school course, yet wish to begin their studies for the Brothers.

The school is situated on Mobile Bay fourteen miles out of Mobile on the road to Fairhope, Alabama. This year it is hoped that there will be between twenty and twenty-five young men from the Southern States who will begin their studies at this Juniorate, as it is called.

After completing their high school course, the boys will then go to Metuchen, New Jersey to become novices for the Congregation. At that time they will receive the habit of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart and will choose a name by which they will be known in the Congregation. After their novitiate they will return to Mobile to take up their college studies at the new Sacred Heart Scholasticate, which has been opened this year at Spring Hill College. Upon obtaining their degrees, the young Brothers are assigned positions in the classrooms in the Brothers' schools throughout the United States.

Farm Income For This Year To Be As Much As Was 1949's

Washington. The Agriculture Department expects farmers to take in 1950 more cash this year than in 1949. But it predicts that their net earnings will be substantially lower.

The department forecast estimated a net farm income of $13,000,000,000 which would be $1,000,000,000 less than in 1949. Farmers' production expenses are expected to be $18,500,000,000 for 1950 which would be $500,000,000 more than in 1949.

Gross farm income, however, will amount to $31,500,000,000 in 1950, the two per cent less than in 1949. This includes government payments, rental value of dwellings, value of home consumption and cash receipts.

Cash receipts from marketings for 1950 were estimated at $27,500,000,000—also about two per cent less than last year, and the fourth largest in U.S. history. This estimate is $2,500,000,000 above the estimate for the same item which the department made in April. The reason for the unexpected increase, the department explained, was the Korean war, bringing greater demand and higher prices.

Cash receipts from marketings in August were 15 per cent above the total for July.

PASS ORDINANCE MAKES MARSHALS JOB APPROPRIATE

An ordinance making the city marshal's job appropriate, effective the first Monday in January, 1951, was adopted Tuesday night at a meeting of the Pass Christian mayor and board of aldermen.

The action was taken under the provisions of an act adopted by the 1950 session of the Mississippi legislature, and following receipt of an opinion from the state attorney general that such an ordinance was legal provided it was adopted 90 days prior to the general election and does not interfere with those in office, a board member explained.

The Pass Christian general election is scheduled December 12.

Reed Winstead, night officer, was nominated for the marshal's office in the recent Democratic primaries but the incumbent, Bravo Woodcock, has filed legal proceedings protesting the election. Woodcock recently filed a petition for judicial review of the primary elections in Harrison county circuit court. No date for the hearing has been officially announced but it is understood it may be set for next week in Gulfport.

The Pass Christian ordinance was introduced by Ralph Gordon, fourth ward alderman, it was reported.

Attending the council meeting at the city hall were Mayor Francis J. Hursey, City Marshal Bravo Woodcock, City Clerk-Tax Collector P. S. Amble, Aldermen Charles Wood, Dayton L. Robinson, W. B. Wistman, Ralph Fournier and Ralph Gordon, and City Attorney E. J. Adam, Jr.

THREE NEW STATE COURT OFFICIALS TAKE OATH OF OFFICE

Jackson.—Three commissioners of the Mississippi supreme court were sworn into office by Chief Justice Harvey Hughes in ceremonies in the court's chambers this week.

The three, J. G. Holmes, prominent Yazoo attorney, Olney Arrington, Hazlehurst, former assistant state's attorney general, and Judge J. P. Coleman of Arkermom, Fifth Circuit Court District, take office immediately.

Judge Arrington and Coleman resigned their former positions.

Sitting for the occasion were four of the regular supreme court justices, Chief Justice McGee and Associate Justices W. P. Roberts, Julian Alexander and L. A. Smith, Sr.

The oath was administered to Joe T. Patterson as assistant attorney general, succeeding Judge Arrington. Patterson, who has served as assistant attorney general in charge of revising statutes, becomes one of five assistant attorneys general.

He is succeeded in the office of assistant attorney general in charge of statute revision by Lester C. Franklin, Jr., Jackson attorney, who was sworn in in a separate ceremony by Chief Justice McGee. This office was created by the 1950 state legislature.

Before administering the oath to the commissioners, Chief Justice McGee paid tribute to the foresight of the legislature in adding assistants to the high tribunal and complimented Gov. Fielding L. Wright upon his appointments.

In the November election, Mississippi voters on whether to increase the court's membership to nine members. If the voters favor that proposal, the commissioners will be retired as soon as the new judges are elected.

FIRST HIGHWAY PATROL CALLED TO ARMED FORCES

Just exactly two weeks after finishing a two months' training school for a Mississippi Highway Patrolman, Joe McGovern, whose home address is Stewart, Mississippi, was called to active duty by Uncle Sam.

Patrolman McGovern was stationed at Eblson, Mississippi, in the Greenwood District. He was a Tech. Sgt. in the Air Corps Reserves. McGovern reported to Keeler AFB for induction on August 18, and from there was sent to Barksdale Field.

States Col. Birdsong, Commissioner of Public Safety, "A large number of our Patrolmen are in the National Guard and the Reserves in all branches of the Armed Forces. Also a number are in the draft register."

Says Birdsong further, "We knew a number of our recruits were in the Reserves and Guard when we hired them. However, the Patrol has always given Service men preference. Eighty-five per cent of all of the Patrolmen who were hired prior to July 1, 1950 were veterans."

We are interested in good men and have not let their military status keep us from hiring them. In fact, we hired a radio operator this week who is a Corporal in the National Guard. These men will be given preference in re-hiring when their Army jobs are finished."

State Director Col. John Patton said inductions will begin next Monday at the Jackson station. Practically all of the men will be sent to Fort Jackson, Columbia, S.C. for basic training, he said.

Patton's statement was made before the Army announced its 70,000 man call for November.

BE CAREFUL OF SCHOOL CHILDREN ON STREETS MOTORISTS CAUTIONED

With all schools beginning regular schedules this week, it is imperative that all drivers of automobiles use extra special care in driving to avoid accidents to the many children who will be on the streets on their way to and from school. Police chief Aline Sauter and his assistants will be on hand to assist the children and to regulate traffic in order to avoid accidents.

Hundreds of children will be walking the streets on their way to and from school, many for the first time, an official explained. While police and school safety patrols will help to protect children from traffic, many crossings, many will be crossing at unprotected corners, and it is for this reason we urge motorists to take special care in driving during school hours.

In some cases enthusiastic youngsters are apt to dart out at any time in front of an approaching car. The best rule for motorists to follow when driving in school areas is to drive at a speed which will allow for stopping suddenly if necessary to avoid an accident.

By following these simple rules, many a child will be spared the agony of broken bones, and many parents the anxiety of worrying about their children.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

LISTS REQUIREMENTS
STUDENTS

Selective Service Headquarters has authorized local Boards of Selective Service System to defer certain college students. Colonel J. W. Patton, Jr., State Director of Selective Service for Mississippi, invites the attention of all college students to these qualifications which must be met for the board to consider deferment:

1. The registrant has completed at least one academic year of a full-time course of instruction at a college, university or similar institution of learning.

2. The college or university at which the registrant last completed an academic year of a full-time course of instruction certifies that the registrant's scholastic standing placed him among the upper half of his class.

3. The local board is satisfied by the record of the registrant's actions in making normally required arrangements that he had fully intended prior to August 1, 1950, to enroll in a full-time course of instruction at a college, university or similar institution of learning for the academic year ending in the Spring of 1951.

Referring to students who are just entering college, or ones who have not stood in the first half of their class, those students who have actually entered and while satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction at a college, university or similar institution of learning, are ordered to report for induction after the beginning and prior to the end of an academic year shall, upon the facts being presented to the local board, have their induction postponed (1) until the end of such academic year, or (2) until they cease satisfactorily to pursue such course of instruction, whichever is earlier.

TUPELO'S AIRPORT TO BE EXPANDED
Construction work began this week on the expansion of Tupelo's airport, except for the administration building, these plans and specifications have not been approved at this time. The date for the completion of the runways is set for November 16, at which time the Southern Airlines, Inc., propose to begin passenger service in and out of Tupelo.

It might be said nowadays, "Billions for defense but not enough for weapons and fighting men."

Trifles &amp; Treasures

by
PEGGY FOOTE

Was it Shakespeare who said, "To think oneself he true" and he has added, "and to others be false"? It struck me quite suddenly that most of us are thieves. Do I shock you? It shocked me also when I realized how much of other people's time we steal. I am thinking specially of three different individuals that I know. One I have known all my life, and most of my life, and the other, just a couple of years I will start with the one I have known all my life and explain, thereby what I mean. Morning after morning, after a boring morning she would call on me—some times before I had a chance to get out of bed. She would sit for hours and talk and rattle about inconsequential things and worse about common gossip until sometimes 2:00 p.m. If I attempted to do any of the numerous household chores which every housewife has to attend (or who would think every one of them had) she would immediately reprimand me with a "what's the matter, can't you sit down a few moments and talk?" So, I would sit, not talking, for I never got a chance to say a word, but listening to this never-ending discourse on other people's affairs which did not interest me in the least, and growing increasingly nervous and worried about whether there would be enough hours left after she finally made her departure to do all I had to do. You see, she was a thief. She stole about six or seven hours out of every day for it must have been weeks. It got to the point where I couldn't bear it any longer and made up my mind that I would go on with my duties regardless of her feelings. This I did but she would follow me from one room to another with that continuous drone. I felt, then, like it wasn't too bad a waste of time since I was accomplishing something domestically, but I soon became aware that I was beginning to absorb the things she said about people—that I was allowing myself to believe them instead of denying them or shutting them out. This I realized, was dangerous and I must do something about it. I told her then quite plainly, that I did not enjoy gossip neither did I wish to hear it or indulge in it, but it was like talking to oneself—no results. The day came when she found a padlock on my gate. Feeling that it had been done on her account she approached me over the back fence and demanded to know "why there was a padlock on the gate." I didn't answer for I repeated being questioned in that time but when she persisted I replied quietly, "because that is the way I want it." She has never been back since. Most of you might condemn me for being a little cruel, but truthfully, is it fair to steal another's time so consistently? The hours that were wasted can never be recalled—and hours seem so precious to me.

Our next little "thief" is someone quite similar. I have observed her wasting away another's time—in fact, "Mrs. Spiegle" and I clocked her at one hour and twenty-five minutes at the railroad station one morning detaining a woman whom we happened to know had left three little girls alone sleeping until she could drive her husband to the train. This one I run from. My husband laughed at me inconspicuously one day when I told him that I had intended inviting this young woman to a meeting but that she talked herself right out of it. Honestly she had—she never did give me a chance to even speak except to say good bye and I did mean good bye.

Our third one is a young woman who happened to be separating over here alone when the threat of the hurricane came. Her mother had sent word from N. O. pleading with her to come home while she could. When I went down to invite her to come to me until the storm blew over she was casually writing her mother a letter. I suggested that the letter may arrive after the hurricane which would be of no earthly good to a distraught mother and tried to prevail upon her to put in a long distance call. The last I heard a neighbor had insisted on taking her to N. O. with his family but, what an awful injustice for all those hours to a woman who was frantic with worry. You see what I mean by us being thieves? We are all more or less inclined to do those things.

There is always precedent with us the type who steals your story. You begin to talk and something you say in the middle of your conversation reminds them vividly and exactly of a similar experience and there you are left with your mouth open and your story hanging by the neck quite dead.

Do you have trouble getting the kiddies to drink their orange juice in the morning? Then soften an orange by rolling lightly, punch a hole in it and insert a piece of stick candy. They can use the porous candy stick as a straw and the juice is sweetened as it is drawn. The only problem now it is to get Junior to relinquish the candy.

Molasses Mint Ice-Cream
2 tea cornstarch
2 cups light cream
2 eggs separated
1/4 cup molasses
1/4 cup sugar
Few grains salt
Few drops peppermint extract.
Combine cornstarch and 1/2 cup cream; mix until smooth. Add 1/4 cups of cream, cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until mixture has slight thickened. Beat egg yolks and add the remaining 1/2 cup of cream. Stir into hot cream mixture. Cook over hot water stirring constantly until mixture coats the spoon. Chill, add molasses. Beat egg white stiff. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly. Fold into molasses mixture, add salt and peppermint extract. Pour into ice tray of refrigerator. Freeze to a mush. Place in chilled bowl. Beat smooth. Return to tray. Freeze firm. Serve six. Over this you can grate semi-sweet chocolate, coconut or nuts.

Are you as relieved as I am that school has opened?

Someone asked me not long ago, "Where do you get inspiration for a column every week?" Well, you don't. Some weeks you really have to labor over it. You can't seem to think of a thing to write about and it tells in your column. Then perhaps the next week you will have several subjects to draw from and so much to say that you could go on for weeks. It is at times like this that your column seems a little worthwhile and you feel as if you are contributing something. Today is an off day—I don't feel inspired in the least.

I was happy to hear of so many people who thanked God for protection from the hurricane. Too many of us take a watch like that for granted or attribute it to a particular quirk of nature and forget to be grateful. When I awakened in a strange bed and listened to the beautiful quietness all about me my heart swelled with gratitude for all of us that we escaped the foam and fury once more.

Last night gave the lie to the belief of any storm. Did you see the phosphorous white-caps before the moon came up? They were a beautiful sight. I watched the moon rise over the tops of two young pines and cast her shimmering mantle across the water almost at my feet. And, we hear there are such people as atheists. I don't believe it.

Met Mrs. Horace M. Williams the other day and found she has a very warm, friendly manner. I am looking forward to knowing her better.

Au revoir

This is the time of the year when we do our best yearning for the cold, cold days of Winter.

"The Child with the Savings Account"

Becomes the Thrifty Man"

A savings account is an ideal birthday gift for a boy or girl. It fosters a sense of independence. It provides an incentive for thrift. It enables the child to save for the things he wants—and thus learn, through a small measure of temporary sacrifice, the relative value of possessions and of goals.
